

Mohamed Ayed

Capturing Life's Moments, One Frame at a Time

Languages: English, French, Arabic

Based in NYC

Education: A degree in Audiovisual from the Higher Institute of Fine Arts in Nabeul (3 years)

Experience: 15 years in the industry

Greetings! I'm Mohamed Ayed, a storyteller through the lens. Over the past 15 years, I've delved into the art of cinematography, blending technical prowess with a genuine love for crafting narratives that resonate.

Recently, the vibrant energy of New York City became my creative backdrop. Here, I'm driven to push boundaries and explore new dimensions in visual storytelling.

Proficient in industry-standard software and fluent in multiple languages, I aim to bridge cultures and create films that transcend borders.

In my portfolio, you'll find:

- Current Projects:

- "Even God won't forgive" (In Progress)
- "L'Albatros"

- Past Endeavors:

- Documentary work for BBC News Arabic and Aljazeera
- Serie "16-16"
- Short film "Dajjal"
- Web Serie "#Familia" by Delice

- On Location in Tunisia:

- As a camera operator, I contributed to the evocative short film "Leila's Blues"

- Additional Noteworthy Contributions:

- Tv Serie "Flashback"
- Tv Serie "School 2"
- Tv Serie "happy Ness"

Let's connect and bring your vision to life!